Mr. Negron,

The meeting with the regional members should be scheduled AFTER the Curriculum Night, not before.

Clearly all 7th grade parents (If not the entire school) need to be alerted to exactly what the content in the book is, the explicit and highly sexualized nature of what their kids are reading in class, not to mention the other elements in the book, such as the glamorization of drug use, disobedience of parents, etc., throughout.

All parents need to know exactly what the rest of the content on the reading list is, what the objections of the parents you have met with are, the discussions and meetings so far.

All parents need to be in the loop about how and who makes these decisions and have a chance to meet with the regional educators as well.

All parents should have the opportunity to attend the regional meeting.

They will not have the opportunity if it takes place before the 7th grade wide discussion at curriculum night.

Otherwise, you are disempowering many parents from having their voices heard.

The maximum number of parents should know what's going on and have the opportunity to speak their mind at the highest level.
