Good Morning, Everyone,

I hope this message finds you well.

I'm sending an e-mail with a quick, but important update. This coming week, Ms. Axelrod will be sending out an e-mail to all families congratulating students on their completion of the state exam and laying out the scope of work to be done in ELA for the remainder of the year across all grades.

The 7th grade team, after a number of lengthy discussions and in consideration of the strengths and areas for growth of the current cohort, decided to expand a writing unit and forego the teaching of Poet X / Brown Girl Dreaming. The final novel of the year, per the class novel list shared at the outset of the year, will be William Golding's "Lord of the Flies." We'll certainly provide you with a copy of the book if you're interested in reading.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out. Have a great rest of your weekend.

Mr. Negron
